

HARRY HOFFNER's publications compassed several reviews of studies of Hittite art, texts, and lexicography, articles on linguistic problems and a text fragment, and two public lectures, one for Oriental Institute members. He was also named chairman of the Ancient Near East Section Committee of the American Oriental Society.